

Potential route - under consideration for new transmission line

Existing electric transmission line - under consideration for potential rebuild to higher voltage

Potential New Substation

Multiple routes are being studied for the addition of a single new high voltage transmission line. Shaded areas are being reviewed as possible route options. However, areas outside of the shaded areas should not be considered exempt from further analysis.

Great River Road National Scenic Byway